That Water Dispute.

There was no development in the controversy between the city water board and James A. Henry, the real estate agent, over furnishing water for the trades assembly hall building, owing to the assembly not paying the water assessment. The water supply was not interfered with by the water works officials and the storekeepers in the building received it as of yore. As stated yesterday, Mr. Henry turned the water on after the board's employees turned it off. A settlement will likely occur to-day, or further proceedings to that end.

A MURDER.

Mike Moisteel Fatally Stabs a Fellow Austrian.

LAST NIGHT AT BRIDGEPORT.

The Victim was His Brother-in-law, who was Cook for the C. L. & W. Construction Gang, and They Quarreled Over a Board Bill—The Wounded Man Died in a Few Minutes—Murderer Escapes.

A fatal stabbing affray occurred in Bridgeport last evening, about 7:40 o'clock. The victim was an Austrian named George Moisteel, who was killed by his brother-in-law, Mike Moisteel. The affair took place in the employ of the railroad. The murderer made good his escape.

The murdered man was a cook for the construction gang, which is composed of Austrians, who were working near Bridgeport yesterday. It appears that Mike Moisteel owed a month's board while connected with the construction gang some time ago, for the men are lodged in cars and carried from place to place, the dead Moisteel doing the cooking for the gang. Recently Mike had been employed on the Bellaire division and he made his home in Bridgeport. Last night after his supper he visited the "floating gang's" cars, which were sidetracked, and he and George had some words. Then they grappled and in an instant Mike whipped his knife around and stabbed the cook in the thigh, following this slash by a straight drive of his knife into his stomach, just below the chest.

The wounded man reeled and fell to the ground, and his assailant fled westward, crossing the creek and was soon lost in the willows. After an effort the prostrate man rose to his feet, bleeding terribly, but his strength was gone and he fell to the ground again never to rise. In less than ten minutes after he was stabbed he died. The deed was committed so quick that the other Austrians hadn't time to interfere, and they were too late in pursuing the fleeing murderer to overtake him. A hastily improvised pillow was put under the dying man's head and he breathed his last on the cinder ground where he fell.

There were several eye witnesses of the tragedy, including the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling yard master and Mr. William Alexander, the latter seeing it from his porch, while the yard master was much closer. They didn't know a knife was used until they saw the cook's clothes streaming blood. As few of the gang of Austrians could speak any English, and that same being mighty indefinite, a reporter for the Intelligencer had his troubles. Only an interpreter could get the straight of the affair. It was said that Mike Moisteel provoked the assault and called his brother-in-law insulting names. He is smaller in size than his victim, and the dead man tried to defend himself by pounding Mike on the head.

The body was placed on a street car and removed to Hall's undertaking establishment, where Coroner Beetham will hold the inquest to-day. The dead man was forty-two years old and had four children in Austria. His brother is in the construction gang, which consists of about twenty laborers. The Bridgeport police were handicapped in their search for Mike, because of his good start, and the difficulty in understanding the excited remarks of the foreigners.

AFTER THE PROSTITUTES.

A New Police Order Taking Them Off the Streets at Night.
Chief of Police Clemens is determined to break up the practice prostitutes and a certain class of young women not so advanced in vice have of walking the streets at night. The chief issued an order yesterday, instructing the officers to hereafter arrest all prostitutes and other street walkers found on the streets between sunset and sunrise.

Jockey Quinn Will Recover.

Jack Quinn, the jockey who was injured at the butchers' picnic, will recover from his injuries. It was ascertained yesterday that he suffered no broken ribs, as was first announced, nor any internal injuries of fatal consequence. He is hurt severely, but his admirers will be pleased to know his recovery is assured. Those who saw the accident express their surprise at his escaping instant death, and his escape was little short of miraculous.

Carroll Club Suits.

Yesterday Squire Greer rendered judgment in favor of the Carroll Club in twenty suits brought by the club to recover dues from its members. The lowest suit was for $14 and the highest $30. There are many more cases of this nature yet to be brought by the club, and they are about equally divided between Squires Greer, Phillips and Teterman. The defense set up in the cases so far has been a misunderstanding of their liability to assessments on the part of the members.

IN A MASS OF FLAME

Prof. Smith Will Dive from the Tower and Slide 500 Feet on a Wire. A Special Attraction and a Good One.

The attraction that created such a sensation at Manhattan Beach in New York, is to be witnessed in Wheeling to-night, and the announcement will draw thousands of people to witness it. Prof. William Smith, the fire diver, has, by special arrangement, contracted to do his fire slide and fire dive at Pleasant Valley park to-night, in connection with the diving elks and trained horse show.

Prof. Smith will ascend the fifty foot tower and saturate his clothing with gasoline, set it on fire and make a head-long dive into the ten foot pool of water below. After this he will again saturate his clothing with gasoline and in a mass of flames slide down a wire from the tower to the entrance of the park, then run back up in flames to the top of the tower.

Professor Smith arrived in the city last night and he is a man of his terrible adventure. It is an attraction such as has never been seen in Wheeling before, and the amusement loving public will appreciate the enterprise of Pleasant Valley park in securing him. Owing to the fact that a number of people have to be at their place of business to-night, his act will not go on until 9:45 o'clock. This will be an extra attraction, but no extra charge will be made for admission.

Besides the above the diving elks and trained horse, Trickle, will appear as usual, and Meister's band will furnish music for the concert and dancing. The programme for the evening will be as follows:

TOM MARTIN'S FERRY

Comes the Republican Convention Which Will Name

CAPT. DANFORD'S SUCCESSOR

As Congressman from the Sixteenth Ohio District—The Date is September 12—Primaries at Which to Select Convention Delegates Will be Held September in all Counties of the District Except Monroe.

Martin's Ferry wins the contest for the congressional convention for the Sixteenth Ohio congressional district with hands down, notwithstanding the fact that the evening paper of that city strongly opposed it on the ground that suitable accommodations could not be secured for the 300 or 400 delegates and others that would be present.

Martin's Ferry people are indignant over the course pursued by their paper, and assert that it should occasionally advocate the interests of the town it is deriving its support from, instead of trying to down any movement that may be started by citizens to boom the city.

The congressional committee, composed of one representative from each county, met in the council chamber at Martin's Ferry yesterday afternoon and was not long in determining the place and time of holding the convention. The session lasted but one hour and fifteen minutes.

The first matter to come before the committee was the place of holding the Sixteenth congressional district convention and just one ballot was necessary to decide the matter. Steubenville and Martin's Ferry were the only cities that had representatives present to ask for the convention. When it came to a vote Martin's Ferry was the favorite, the ballot standing four to one in favor of that city. The next matter before the committee was to settle the time of holding the convention and the subject required some time, but finally September 12 was chosen as the date. The primaries at which to select delegates will be held September 2nd and in all the counties excepting Monroe, in which the delegates will be selected by the county committee.

Judge W. C. DeFord, of Carroll county, was elected temporary chairman and Frank Tyler, of Monroe county, secretary. This finished the work before the committee and it then adjourned.

The members of the committee were as follows: D. W. Beall, of Jefferson; T. B. Rouse, of Monroe; D. O. Rutan, of Carroll; S. K. McLaughlin, of Harrison; and Theodore Keller, of Belmont.
Mr. Beall, committeeman from Jefferson county, addressed the meeting at considerable length and tried to persuade them that Steubenville was the place for the convention, and was the only gentleman who voted to have the convention in that city.
